

H2

The H2 desktop headphone stand features a robust steel frame designed to complement larger on- and over-ear headphones. Its silicone cradle distributes weight evenly across headbands up to 3.5 inches wide, and is specially contoured to prevent impressions and uneven wear. Ensuring maximum stability, H2 features a weighted steel base with silicone padding on the bottom to keep it firmly in place.

UNIVERSAL DESIGN

H2 offers ample height to accommodate any headphone or headset size and supports headbands up to 3.5 inches wide.

HEAVY-DUTY STABILITY

Crafted from steel with a solid 4.3" x 7" base, H2 resists tipping and is built to last. Silicone padding on the base keeps everything planted on your desk.

UNIFORM DESKTOP LOOK

Pair the H2 with our SP Series speaker stands for a cohesive desktop aesthetic to make your workspace a more enjoyable place to be.

PROTECT YOUR GEAR

H2's contoured silicone cradle reduces pressure on headbands, safeguarding your headphones from premature wear and preserving their appearance.
